

Product Details

- 252 pages
- ISBN: 1937600181
- Publisher: 1Baylor Books
- Language: English in Paperback and Kindle
- Spanish edition available April 2013

To Purchase:

- Available on Amazon as Paperback and Kindle

Translation Rights

- Translation and Film rights are available worldwide.
- Translation and typesetting available.
- Contact: Stan Cheren • Rancho Park Publishing
- ranchopark@gmail.com • www.ranchopark.com

Rancho Park Publishing
Translations for Publications...since 1988

About the Book:

The garden lay silent. The harvest was complete. But the devil knows no happiness, only pain. Death comes with a smile, a dozen roses, and hungry for a meal. It's time to harvest the next flower for his garden. His first flower has been alone for quite a while. She'll finally have some company-and the town of Montclair will never be the same again.

Kelvin Kettle is a man obsessed with revenge. He returns to the sleepy small town of his youth to plant his garden in the place where his soul first became twisted... The Garden is Book 1 of the Montclair Murders.

Reader Comments:

"You will experience an adrenaline rush with the turn of every page while reading this well paced thriller, with characters and a story line so real, you'll be "checking" on your neighbors for more reasons than one!"

---

"I found myself so caught up in the townspeople of Montclair and their experiences as the plot unfolded I had to look around and make sure I was not!"

---

"Highly Recommended!! Great for mystery lovers, suspense lovers, thriller enthusiasts, and action/adventure readers. I could see this book becoming a hit feature film."

About the Author

I'm a suspense writer and children's author in Rocky Mount, North Carolina. Read my stories for thrills and excitement from beginning to end. When you are looking for a different kind of read you have come to the right place.

I have more than 30 years of experience to influence my books and other writings. Over the years, I've been actively writing but didn't start full-time until I retired from the military.

While in the military, I was in the Iraq War and served as an MP. My civilian experience includes earning Master's degree in Law and working as a paralegal. Writing, however, has always been my passion because it lets me drift away from everyday stresses. I'm sure my books will do the same for you.